Prevent Child Abuse & Neglect:

When we make relationships and environments safe, stable, and nurturing, we help all kids and families thrive.

There are four types of child abuse and neglect:

Physical Abuse

Sexual Abuse

Emotional Abuse

Neglect

children experienced child abuse and neglect in the last year. That is millions of kids. (self-report data)

The prevention of child abuse and neglect is a CDC priority. They're not inevitable.

relationships and environments are essential to prevent child abuse and neglect and to assure all children reach their full potential.

CDC has developed a technical package to help states and communities use the best available evidence to prevent child abuse and neglect.

The technical package highlights:

Strengthen economic supports for families

support parents and positive parenting

Change social norms to Provide quality care and education early in life

Enhance parenting skills to promote healthy child development

Intervene to lessen harms and prevent future risk
